The following persons were appointed yesterday by President Jas. W. Welch of the Chamber of Commerce, as delegates to the good roads convention: B. Van Dusen, J. Q. A. Bowlby, C. R. Higgins, M. Foard and John Frye.

H. W. Dean, who left Astoria about a month ago for Tonepah, returned here yesterday. There is a wide discrepancy between the glowing newspaper accounts of this mining district and the facts as they actually exist, and Harry is of the opinion that Tonepah is a good country to stay away from.

Her old mission and her famous lemons have made Santa Barbara famous. Tourists from all over the world have gone to see her missions, and her lemons have gone all over the world to satisfy the tourist, as well as those living the "simple life." You can get her mission lemons from your grocer.

Mrs. F. A. Fisher and her son Earl will leave today for Portland, Maine, where Mr. Fisher will be married to Miss Ethel Sweet. The wedding will take place on Thursday, June 22. After the wedding the couple will visit a number of the eastern cities and will come to Seaside to spend the summer, and will make Astoria their home.

Preparations for the 4th of July celebration are progressing. The new city hall will be dedicated on the 4th and it is probable that the exercises will be held there, although no definite arrangements have been decided upon. The committee on arrangements will meet next Monday afternoon when the report of the soliciting committee will be presented.

James McIvor died at the hospital yesterday aged 63 years. He has been a county charge for a number of years. Years ago he was employed by Jas. Turk in the sailor boarding house business and in a schuffe he injured his leg from the effects of which he never recovered.

Nearly all the logging camps are running with full crews, but how long they will continue is not definitely known. The camps cutting spruce logs will probably shut down by the first of July, and the fir camps will depend upon the demand for logs. The price of lumber has been advanced again which indicates that the price of logs will not be reduced.

There is a reported improvement in the catch of calmon by the gill netters the past few days, owing probably on account of the muddy condition of the river. The traps report a better catch this year than for the corresponding season last year. The run of large salmon still continues, very few small salmon entering the river. Last year the run was mostly small salmon.

Work of placing the tide lands on what was originally the Powers Donation Land Claim was completed yesterday. The farm now belongs to C. S. Brown, Dr. Jay Tuttle, F. J. Taylor and O. I. Peterson went over there to witness the closing of the dyke which was successfully done. This will make a good road to Warrenton and Seaside and be of great convenience to people of Astoria desiring to drive to Seaside.

The Rev. J. Ashoff, of Seattle, will arrive in Astoria today to assist Rev. J. J. Chapoton and Father Waters during the mission service at the Catholic church this week. Another rousing meeting was held last night and both the interest and membership is increasing. Father Chapoton is a forcible speaker and his arguments instructive and convincing. Special services will be held tonight to which the public are invited.

The Pacific and Eastern Lumber Company, which existed on paper at Astoria, and was organized by P. T. Conline and G. W. Graham, has gone fluey and the manipulators have departed for parts unknown leaving a number of remembrances in the shape of unsettled accounts in the hands of their friends. They issued checks on banks which were refused, as they did not and never did have funds in the banks. Astoria, at different times, has been the home of the most colossal dead beats and grafters ever known and the fields are white unto the harvest.

David S. Day, a member of the U. S. geological survey, arrived in Astoria yesterday and was the guest of Hon. C. W. Fulton and several prominent citizens. At the last session of congress Mr. Fulton secured an appropriation of $10,000 for the examination of the Clatsop beach sands which are supposed to contain considerable fine gold. Dr. Day will make a thorough examination of the sands and thorough tests will be made. His report will be watched with interest. An effort was made at Seaside last summer to dredge for these sands, and although there was plenty of gold it was mostly in quick sand and the machinery was not sufficient to retain it.

COURT IN SESSION

Clatsop County Court Meets in Regular Session Yesterday.

VIEWERS REPORT ADOPTED

Court Appoints Five Delegates to the Good Roads Convention—Persons Having Claims Against the County Must Have Them Certified to by Officer.

The regular June term of the county court convened yesterday, Judge Trenchard and Commissioners Clark and Larsen being present. The following proceedings were had.

Bids for the improvement of a road in district No. 4 in the Tucker creek district, were opened, only one being received from Winters Bros. for $3 a rod. The matter was taken under advisement. Ordered that parties having claims against the county must have the same certified to by the officer ordering the same before said claims will be allowed by the court.

Communication from H. Hill, supervisor of road district No. 14, regarding a gate across the county road. The road supervisor was instructed to notify the parties to have the gate removed or the matter would be placed in the hands of the district attorney.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for building a bridge across the north fork of the Necanicum south of Seaside, bids to be accompanied by plans and specifications, bids to be filed by July 1st.

A deed for land taken from M. Deveretz for county road on the north fork of the Clatskanie, was accepted and warrant ordered drawn for the amount.

Communication from M. S. Copeland in regard to taxes was referred to the county assessor.

The report of the viewers and surveyor of the Elsie road was presented and read a third time, the report adopted and the road declared a legal county road.

Claims of O. A. Cole and J. C. Rierison for damages for building Elsie county road, were examined, and it appearing that the lands had not been damaged by the building of the road, they were disallowed. The cost of the survey was $236.00.

The following delegates were appointed to the good roads convention which convenes in Portland, June 19: Andrew Young, Asmus Brix, Geo. W. Warren, A. W. Duncan, John Fry.

The monthly claims were allowed and the court adjourned for the term.

New Features.

The public are awaiting with anxious expectancy the new program that will be arranged for the Star theater. The purpose of the management is to give an entertainment equal to the best given in all the large cities possessing equal merit in every feature. The attractions offered will make the program double its present size, and by so doing an opportunity is offered of securing the higher class of artists not procured in theaters where only a short program is rendered. The expense attending the change will be considerable, but Manager Gervurtz is satisfied that the public are willing to pay what an entertainment is worth, as they will receive in one night that which ordinarily has been produced on two separate nights, so that there will be really no difference in the price of admission. Astoria has a population that ought to support a first-class vaudeville theater, and no doubt will when the program is published.

Organ Recital.

The new pipe organ of the First Lutheran church of Upper Astoria has been installed and will be dedicated tonight by an interesting organ recital conducted by Fredrick Goodrich, of Portland, assisted by local Astoria talent. An interesting program has been prepared and the affair promises to be the musical event of the season. The organ is the first and only one ever in Astoria and was purchased through A. R. Cyrus agent of this city. The full Sunset Male chorus will be present and take part in the program. The enterprise exhibited by the Lutheran church is deserving of the patronage of the public and no doubt the church will be crowded.

A. O. U. W. Notice.

By direction of the lodge, notice is hereby given that on Saturday evening, June 10, 1905, a matter of grave importance will come up for discussion and explanation, to which each and every member is invited to be present.

HAPHAZARD STATEMENTS

Prove Ruinous to Reputable Rooming Houses in Exposition City.

There are those who travel frequently and appreciate comforts, while others may be found occasionally who consider exorbitant what the experienced traveler, under like circumstances, will deem fair. In Portland, many of the first-class rooming houses are favored at the present time with the over-flow travel which, under ordinary circumstances, could go to the first-class hotels.

The Calumet, located at Seventh and Alder streets, Portland, is one of these establishments. Mrs. L. E. Hamilton, hostess of the Calumet, stated on Monday that her house had a growing patronage of regular Portland visitors who during the fair, pay no extra charges for their rooms, while at the same time a number of regular patrons of leading hotels who arrive without notice and can not find quarters, are frequently accommodated at The Calumet at regular prices. It is true however that they have a number of large rooms, containing two double beds, for which they get from four persons $1.00 each, or $4.00 for the room. As many people travel to the fair in groups of four, these rooms are considered by them extraordinarily reasonable. Occasionally an individual traveler wants one of these rooms, while others are anxiously waiting for it also. In these cases they get $3.00 from the one person who appreciates such elegant accommodations. Mr. Crowell, the popular manager of The Calumet, says that they also have another house, at which they can lodge travelers at $1.50 a day in very comfortable, but not as modern rooms. At The Calumet rooms are generally from $2 upwards per day, with the exception of a few, $1.50 rooms, which, however, go before the day is far advanced. All the rooms at this establishment are absolutely modern, and a first-class dining room which is elegantly equipped, is maintained on the ground floor, where regular seven course dinners, equal to the best in the land, are served at 50 cents.

Reservations may be made by mail by addressing "The Calumet," Seventh and Alder streets, Portland, Oregon.
